Access & Navigation

1. Log in to GradeBook.
2. On the Teacher Home Page, under Online Learning, click Dashboard.

3. Click Active Discussions on the course whose discussion activity you want to moderate.
The discussion grading screen displays.

4. In the Assignment column, click Moderate next to the name of the discussion you want to moderate.

The Grading screen displays. You do not have to grade any posts in order to moderate them.

Approving Posts

In VirtualClassroom, you can determine whether or not student posts need your approval before displaying within a discussion. When assigning a discussion activity to your students, on the Assignment Details screen in GradeBook, select the Require Approval? check box if you want to enable this feature. The following steps assume you have selected this check box.

Allow students to work on the activity from: 05/18/2016 12:00 AM to 05/25/2016 11:59 PM

Options:

Require Approval? ☒

Publish Immediately? ☐

Note: Selecting this option allows students to participate in the activity as soon as the designated timeframe arrives. Otherwise, you must click Publish on the activity's Details screen in order to allow students to begin.

On the Grading screen for the discussion you're moderating, within the submitted posts, the Show Post button displays under the student's Replies count. Click this button to approve the student's post.

Vocabulary #1 Posts: 2

You were assigned a vocabulary word in class. Define that term in your own words. Then, provide an example sentence in which the meaning of the word is clear. Then, respond to two other students' posts with an example sentence using the word they were assigned.

identical -- exactly the same. I have an identical twin, so sometimes people think he is me.

Approving Posts (continued)

If you later decide you do not want to show a particular post, you can unapprove it by clicking the Hide Post button that displays under the student's Replies count after you have clicked Show Post.

HIDE POST is the default button that displays on this screen if you do not select REQUIRE APPROVAL? when you assign the discussion to your students. In these circumstances, if a student posts something you do not want displayed, you can still hide the post.*

Creating Posts

In a discussion, you can create a post that displays to all students. You can also respond to individual students; these posts may be designated private or public.

To create a general post that displays to all students, enter a comment in the Create your new post here field at the top of the discussion, and then click Post.

Great! You can infer the meaning of the word from the sentence you created.

Creating Posts (continued)

To post a private response to a student, select the Private Message check box, enter a comment in the Reply to (student name) field that displays below any post, and then click Reply.

The screenshot shows a forum post by Gardner, Tionna, dated 6/1/2016 10:30:13 AM. The post content is "apathetic -- how I feel about this assignment." To the right, it says "Replies: 0" and has a "Show Post" button. Below the post is a reply box. A red line with three numbered callouts (1, 2, 3) highlights the reply process. Callout 1 points to the "Private Message" checkbox, which is checked. Callout 2 points to the text input field where the reply "Tionna, please keep the sarcasm to yourself." is entered. Callout 3 points to the "Reply" button.

Be sure to select the PRIVATE MESSAGE check box before you click REPLY. You cannot change the public vs. private status of your comment once you have posted it, and you cannot delete posts you have made.

Make sure students are aware that they cannot respond to you privately, even if you selected the PRIVATE MESSAGE check box. If you want to have an extended private conversation about a post, keep this in mind.
